

Sydney Catholic Schools Specialist Support Classes for Students with Intellectual Disability Good Samaritan Catholic College, Hinchinbrook

Sydney Catholic Schools Specialist Support Class meets the faith, educational, social and wellbeing needs of students by providing a rigorous yet highly supported educational program for students with an intellectual disability as their primary or main disability. Along with a Psychometric Assessment Report, we also require an Adaptive Functioning Assessment Report to determine your child's suitability for the class.

Students' educational needs are met through:

- evidence-based strategies and resourcing
- individualised planning and goal setting
- highly skilled and experienced teachers
- engaging, holistic learning experiences where students thrive
- smaller class sizes and a high teacher to student ratio

Every student is encouraged to excel in a multitude of ways, through personalised and self-paced learning, where student voice and special interests are incorporated into the class program.

Students enrolled in specialist support classes will be important, valued members of the school community and will be included in every aspect of the life of the school.
